THE PRESERVATION OF REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT

The only defence against the H-bomb is common sense "Know-How and Training" plus the will and the wit to use these twin keys to survival, promptly. And we must remember that the H-bomb phase of the next war will be over in about three to fourteen days. During these vitally important days, it will be imperative to insure the preservation and active continuity of representative government.

No military set-up could take its place effectively. Just as no sane person would "Swap horses while crossing a stream" so no nation fighting for survival during an H-bomb blitzkrieg will dare risk the disintegration of representative government.

This concept of survival planning calls for the inclusion of Civil Defence at all levels of government -- Federal, Provincial and Municipal. Above all, it calls for a sensible integration and unified direction of the national effort, both military and civil.

The primary aim of Civil Defence is to prevent the unnecessary loss of life. The ultimate aim -- in the Western World -- must always be to insure the preservation of Representative Government.

Forty-nine candidates including forty-five High School teachers and four members of the Military Forces attended from 8th - 26th July. Eighty-eight teachers from schools throughout Alberta have completed the course in Civil Defence held as a Summer School at the University of Alberta. The students are pictured above with the instructing staff.

RETIREMENT OF MR. ALFRED PEART

One of the most respected members of the Provincial Civil Service, Mr. Alfred Peart -- Senior Administrative Officer "G" Staff for the past five years -- retired from Alberta Civil Defence during the month of July.

Born in England, Mr. Peart came to Alberta in the spring of 1914 to become a school teacher at Wostok, east of Edmonton. He served with the Canadian Army in both world wars with the rank of Sergeant Major.

In 1924 Mr. Peart joined the Federal Civil Service as an officer of the Forestry Department in Northern Alberta, and continued until the Provincial Government became responsible for the area. Mr. Peart then transferred to the Alberta Department of Lands and Mines.

Later, after seven years with the Department of Industries and Labour, Mr. Peart joined Civil Defence in 1951.

Many activities have claimed Mr. Peart's attention, including the Civil Service Association, Civil Service Commission, Civil Service Pension Board and the Provincial Management Committee of St. John Ambulance.

His primary interest has been people and he will always be remembered for the old world graciousness which coloured his every contact. The Alberta Civil Defence Corps wishes him every success and happiness in the years ahead.

CIVIL DEFENCE IN THE SOVIET UNION

A despatch from Moscow stated that "The Soviet Union has started informing its citizens about the destructive power of atomic bombs and to stress Civil Defence preparations....."

An educational motion picture about atomic warfare has been produced here for the first time.....The film is to be shown in theatres, clubs, settlements and farms through the Soviet Union.....

This film has not yet been seen by foreigners. A detailed description of it appeared in "Military Knowledge", a technical magazine published by the Central Committee of DOSAAF.

QUOTE

"The risk from radiation resulting from nuclear tests is extremely small compared to the risk of not maintaining our defences against totalitarian forces."

(AEC Scientist Willard F. Libby in Civil Defender, June 1957)

"Too many women still live in helpless dread of the H-bomb, without the comfort and strength of having done something about their fears -- preparing the safeguards to protect their families and homes, by good C.D. training now."

(Mrs. Katherine Howard
Delegate to NATO CD in Civil Defencer, June, 1957)

The eminent scholar Salvador deMadariaga sums up present Russian policy well, when he said:

"Moscow wants to return to ballet and football teams, while the dance of death is performed in Budapest, and a football of human skulls is coldly risked in the Middle East for the sake of the Soviet Union's world strategy."
